WARSAW AREA CLEARED

Right Wing of Polish Army Now Near Brest Litovsk But Reds Threaten Lemberg.

Paris, Aug. 20. (Associated).—Military successes of the Poles continued yesterday according to the report to the foreign office from the military mission in Warsaw, under plans elaborated by the French General Weygand and a staff of over six hundred French officers.

These officers are now either actively in command of the forces freeing Warsaw from the Soviet menace or aiding Polish commanders.

London, Aug. 20.—The second sitting of the Russo-Polish peace conference took place Thursday and a summary of Russia's terms was communicated to the Poles. They are substantially the same as those the Russian delegation published in London, according to a Moscow statement dated Thursday.

London, Aug. 20.—The Russian-Soviet forces have abandoned Lukov, 68 miles southeast of Warsaw and Radzi 80 miles southeast, according to Thursday's Moscow communiqué. It is claimed that the Poles have been driven back seven miles from Ciechanow, 45 miles northwest of Warsaw.

Warsaw, Aug. 18.—Polish successes on all fronts, with the exception of the southern battle sector, where the Russian Soviet forces are advancing in the direction of Lemberg, are reported in the official statement on fighting operations issued tonight.

The Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth and Eighty-ninth divisions of the Warsaw front have been annihilated and thousands of Soviet soldiers made prisoners. The Russians lost their bearings in trying to meet attacks on all sides from the Polish columns on the banks.

The Poles, continuing their advance have occupied Kalisz, 55 miles east of Warsaw; Siedlce, 57 miles east of the capital; Milyzecz, 20 miles south of Siedlce, and Wlodawa on the Bug River, 125 miles southeast of Warsaw.

Russian Soviet forces are evacuating Brest-Litovsk, the strongly fortified town on the Bug River 120 miles east of Warsaw, according to advices received here tonight.

The Poles are reported to be regrouping before Lemberg for a counter stroke against the Bolsheviks, who are less than thirty kilometers from the city.

300 FRUIT GROWERS VISIT McRAE ORCHARD

Annual Meeting of Vermont Horticultural Society Held Wednesday at Castleton.

Rutland, Aug. 20.—About 300 fruit growers of Vermont gathered Wednesday at the farm of R. R. McRae at Castleton Corners to attend the annual meeting of the Vermont Horticultural society. Demonstrations in grafting and pruning were given under the supervision of Mr. McRae. A number of the latest machines for agricultural work were demonstrated and the entire orchard of 12000 trees was inspected.

Among those who spoke at the meeting in the afternoon were George A. Drew, manager of the Conover orchard of 40,000 trees at Greenwich, Ct.; H. C. C. Miles, assistant secretary of the New England fruit show, Hartford, Conn.; Prof. A. T. Stevens, president of the Connecticut Pomological society; W. A. Munson, president of the Massachusetts Fruit Growers' association; Walpole, Mass. and E. A. Hackett, manager of the Bolton Fruit company, operating an orchard of 20,000 trees at Bolton, Mass.

FOURTH COMMUNITY DANCE

Thursday Evening Entertainments are Growing in Popularity.

The growing popularity of the Thursday evening Community dances at Welfare Hall was very evident last night from the well filled floor and the manifest enjoyment of everyone present. The attendance was considerably in excess of any of the dances previously held and it needed no clairvoyant power to see that everyone was having the time of his life.

The chaperones were Mrs. G. P. Endress and Miss Maude L. Carpenter, and Miss Maud Bolden had general supervision and direction. Punch was served and proved an acceptable addition to the festivities.

One of the special features of the evening was the kaleidoscope dance, and no one has created so much hilarity and genuine fun as this most informal method of securing dancing partners. The applause of the dancers and their repeated demands for a continuance of the dance was ample evidence of the hit it had made.

These community dances, conducted as they are in the spirit of friendliness and wholly without stiffness or formality, are filling a real need in community life, and more and more the young people are getting to appreciate that here is clean, wholesome fun and plenty of it, showing that this is what they want by the continued and increasing attendance.

GIFT TO FIREMEN

Appreciation of Services from Daniel Robinson of Old Bennington.

Two of the chemical engines and a number of local firemen responded to the call early Sunday morning when a large barn at the summer home of Daniel Robinson at Old Bennington was struck by lightning and destroyed.

The following letter received by Village Clerk William P. Hogan from Mr. Robinson is self-explanatory:

Underwood Bennington, Vt., Aug. 18, 1920.

Mr. William P. Hogan, Village Clerk

Dear Sir:—

I enclose please find check for $100 for the firemen who came to help me out Sunday morning.

In the confusion I cannot tell just who they were, but I think the "Brads" and the "Eagles."

I am sending it to you as I am sure that you will place it where it should go. Also I want to assure you that their services were fully appreciated.

Thanking you for the trouble, I am Yours truly,

D. Robinson.

TWIN STATE MANAGER DEAD

Howard L. Olds Died Thursday at York, Maine.

Brattleboro, Aug. 18.—Howard L. Olds, vice president and general manager of the Twin State Gas & Electric Co., died Thursday night in a hospital in York, Me. Not much is known concerning his death, but it is known that last November he had an attack of influenza, which left him in a weakened condition, and that he went to Ogunquit, Me., this summer to recuperate. Two or three weeks ago his condition became so bad that he was taken to the hospital.

Mr. Olds was a former resident of Brattleboro and came here to establish and take charge of the general office of the Twin State Gas & Electric Co., which first was in the Hooker building and later in the American building.

The office was moved to Boston two years ago, and since then the family has lived in Brookline, Mass. Mr. Olds making frequent trips to Brattleboro.

He was a little over 50 years old, a man of courteous bearing, pleasing personality and exceptionally business capacity. He was a member of the Centre Congregational church, which he joined in 1917.

THREE RECEIVERS NAMED TO CLOSE UP PONZI BUBBLE

His Liabilities Now Amount to Over Four Millions

PONZI IS STILL IN JAIL

Says That If He Could Have Sixty Days of Freedom He Could Pay All Debts.

Boston, Aug. 20.—The brown fortunes of Ponzi and the interests of thousands of investors in his get-rich-quick scheme have been placed in the hands of receivers.

The receivership was instituted today by Judge Norton in the United States district court.

Judge Nelson appointed three receivers, William R. Seaton of Cohasset, John Forbes Perkins of Milton and Edward A. Thurston of Fall River. The receivers were ordered to file bonds in the sum of $50,000 each.

Ponzi said yesterday that he was "content to remain in jail" after being arraigned in Federal court on a charge of using the mails to defraud in connection with his plan to pay 50 per cent in 45 days on all investments. He waived examination and was held in $25,000 for the September session of the court.

Crowds in the court room gathered around Ponzi in an effort to grasp his hand and he smiled broadly in appreciation.

"All that I ask," he said, "is that I be given 60 days in the custody of two guards, and I will be able to meet all my obligations. This morning I received $5500, through the mails, which shows the confidence the public still reposes in me." He added that he had turned the money over to a sheriff.

The Colony Foreign Exchange company, rival of Ponzi in offering high rates of interest for investments was also placed in receivership by Judge Norton.

Ponzi's liabilities as uncovered by the State attorney general, detailed tonight $4,308,87, representing the claims of 10,200 investors, plus the 50 per cent interest promised.

MINISTER HAD SHORT TROUT

Rev. E. H. Wild of Westminster Had Five Fish Under Legal Length.

Brattleboro, Aug. 18.—The Rev. Edward W. Wild, pastor of the Congregational church in Westminster, who is attending the Northfield conference, was brought in to the municipal court this afternoon by Sheriff Frank L. Wellman who had examined the minister's fish basket and found there in five short trout among 27 which the officer passed as meeting the legal requirements. He pleaded guilty before Acting Judge Arthur V. D. Piper, who imposed a fine of $35 and costs of $7.45 which the minister paid. The Rev. Mr. Wild is 57 years old. He objected to being fined, saying that while he was technically guilty he was not morally so, because he measured the fish by his hands and felt sure they were six inches long. He said he always upheld the law, was a warden himself once, and always instructed his boys to obey the statutes. Judge Piper held that the five fish were so short that it was not reasonable to think they were of legal length. The Rev. Mr. Wild was fishing in a brook in Vermont when the sheriff happened along in his automobile and asked to look in his basket.

S. M. ROOSEVELT DEAD

Cousin of T. R. and Famous Portrait Painter.

New York, Aug. 19.—Samuel Montgomery Roosevelt, artist and portrait painter and second cousin of the late Theodore Roosevelt dropped dead in the Knickerbocker Club here tonight. Mr. Roosevelt was born in New York, July 30, 1863, and studied in Paris under Laurens and Constant. His works were exhibited in the Paris salon in 1910, and he was decorated by the French government in 1914.

Some of his paintings are "Meditation," "Winter," "The Firefly," "A Samoan Girl," "The Baths of Diana at Nimes," "The Anarchist."

Mr. Roosevelt, who was president of the National Association of Portrait Painters, died from a hemorrhage of the brain. His widow is at the Roosevelt country home at Skaneateles, N. Y. The artist was a chevalier of the Legion of Honor and was known as an all-around sportsman. In his early days he displayed unusual skill as a fencer.

GASOLINE TANK EXPLODED

Two Men Killed at Syracuse This Morning.

Syracuse, Aug. 20.—Two men were killed and 12 hurt when a two thousand gallon gasoline reservoir, the property of the C. E. Miller company at Wolf and Park streets exploded this morning.

Searchers discovered the bodies under tons of mortar and debris. Thousands of workers in the vicinity were panic stricken when bricks and heavy mortar slabs blown in the air struck surrounding buildings.

Persons nearby were cut by flying glass. The dead are H. R. Green and Harry S. Wathery.

ANTI-WILSON MAN WINS

Is One of Four Mississippi Representatives Renominated.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 18.—Four of the five Democratic Representatives seeking renomination were successful in yesterday's primary, according to returns compiled by the Jackson Daily News. Representative Candier, in the First District, Lowry in the Second, Slason in the Fourth and Quinn in the Seventh apparently had a safe majority, while the defeat of Venable in the Fifth was indicated. Venable was opposed by Ross Collins, former Attorney-General of Mississippi and a bitter opponent of the present national administration.

ARTHUR GUTERMAN SPEAKER

Meeting of Poetry Discussion Group Saturday Afternoon August 21st.

There will be a meeting of the Poetry Group at the Town Hall in Arlington, Vermont, on Saturday afternoon, August 21st at 3:30 o'clock. Arthur Guterman of New York City will be the guest of the afternoon and will read from his own poems. Mr. Guterman, who is best known through his rhymed reviews which have been appearing in "Life" for several years—is a poet of rare achievement and a delightful lecturer.

His most recent publications are "The Laughing Muse," "The Mythical Lyre," and "Ballads of Old New York." The next meeting of the Poetry Group will be held next week on a day to be decided upon at the Saturday meeting. The speaker for that meeting will be Miss Jessie B. Rittenhouse of New York City whose subject will be "Irish Poets and Nationalism." Miss Rittenhouse's Second Book of Modern Verse was published last autumn by The Houghton Mifflin Co. and is already in its fourth edition.

CHERRY-SUMNER

Bennington Girl Married to Brookline Young Man

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Miss Alice W. Sumner was united in marriage to Lawrence D. Cherry of Woonsocket, R. I., by Rev. W. G. Towart.

The bride was prettily attired in a gown of white chiffon with hat to match and carried white carnations. Miss Grace L. Sumner, sister of the bride was the bride's maid and wore white voile with hat to match. Guy T. Sumner, brother of the bride was best man.

After a short trip to Niagara Falls Mr. and Mrs. Cherry will reside in Brookline, Mass., where a furnished apartment awaits them.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mrs. Nellie W. Sumner of Elm street and is well known in Bennington. For the past three years she has been employed as a child's nurse in Panama and has been at her home here since early summer.

FAIR HAVEN WOMAN KILLED

Mrs. Margaret McGuinness Dies of Auto Accident Injuries

Fair Haven, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Margaret McGuinness, aged 74 years, died at her home here tonight at 10 o'clock as the result of injuries sustained Tuesday evening on the main road between here and Putney when two automobiles crashed together. One of the cars was a Pierce Arrow touring car owned and driven by W. H. Williams, proprietor of the Williams garage in Putney, and the other was an Essex automobile owned by John S. Jubar, proprietor of the Jubar restaurant here. None of the occupants of the Williams car was reported injured, but Misses Mayme, Irene and Florence McGuinness, Mr. Jubar and the chauffeur of the Essex machine were badly shaken up.

According to the best information, the Williams car caught the front hub cap of the Essex car, severing the front and back fender, the running board a back wheel and also springing the rear axle.

Front wheels had been knocked off and every spoke in the wheel broken. The cause of the accident is not definitely known, but it is probable that the driver of the Jubar car, which turned out to pass a lumber team, did not see the Williams car, or that the driver of the Williams car did not see the Jubar machine.

The Williams car traveled several feet before it was brought to a stop.

COHOS STRIKE ENDING

Expect Mills to Be Running in Full in Ten Days.

Notice—This mill is running on the open shop, or American, plan. It is absolutely not necessary for any one to join or belong to any union or other organization in order to obtain or hold employment in this mill.

The above notice was posted in conspicuous places in all the knitting mills of Cohoes and vicinity which have been operating since July 6 under the open shop policy. All of the forces in the various plants being increased to the extent of several hundred operatives.

Employees of the various mills that have been on strike since May 26 reported for work yesterday, as directed on Monday. They were given applications to fill out, after which they will be notified when to report for work. It is expected that within the next week or ten days the mills will be operating in full.

No official statements with reference to the mills were given out yesterday by the Manufacturers' Association or the leaders of the United Textile Workers of America.

DESPERATE TRY TO RECONSIDER AT NASHVILLE

Anti-Suffragists Are Making a Final Effort

BRIBERY BUSILY CHARGED

Henry Burn, 22, and Youngest Member of Tennessee House Is Hero of Great Suffrage Victory.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Failure of anti-suffrage leaders today to attempt to force the lower house of the Legislature to reconsider its action of yesterday in ratifying the woman suffrage amendment was overshadowed in interest by the launching of a county Grand Jury investigation into charges that improper influences had been brought to bear on members of the Legislature in their consideration of the measure.

Publication by the Nashville Tennessean and the Nashville Banner of two affidavits attributed to C. C. Wallace, Judge of the City Court of Louisville, Tenn., and Dennis E. Murray of Nashville, general agent for the Federal Land Bank of Louisville, Ky., alleging that an attempt has been made by a suffrage leader to bribe Representative Harry T. Burn, Republican of McMinn county, also was a feature of the day's developments.

The Grand Jury charged by Judge J. D. B. Debow of the Davidson county Criminal Court, lost no time in getting to work and before noon had summoned J. T. Elcheberger of Washington, D. C., a publicity man in charge of headquarters here of the anti-ratification forces. Mr. Elcheberger was before the jury two hours and it was said additional witnesses probably would appear tomorrow.

Judge Debow's charge was directed at alleged special interest which it has been charged have representatives here voting against ratification.

"It has been and it is being currently reported by some of the friends and advocates supporting the ratification of the proposed Federal Amendment," Judge Debow told the jury, "that forces of corruption and representatives of special interests have come to this state from beyond our borders and that lobbyists, or, in any event, individuals bearing the reputation of lobbyists, have been and are present in this city and county invading and infesting the rooms of our State Capitol and the lobbies and public assembly places in our hotels, and other places in our county."

After quoting and explaining the state statutes relating to lobbying the court instructed the jury to return indictments promptly if an investigation developed that the laws had been violated.

Charges of the attempted bribery of Representative Burn were not regarded seriously by suffrage leaders and many anti-ratificationists were frank to say that their views were similar. Mr. Burn was recorded as voting with the suffrage opponents on both roll calls on a motion to table the ratification resolution, which was lost on a tie vote, and a few minutes later cast his vote for the amendment. One vote decided the issue in favor of suffrage. The affidavits charged that it was approached during the interval between the vote on the motion to table and the vote to concur with the Senate in ratifying the amendment.

"I know a mother's advice is always safest for her boy to follow, and mother wanted me to vote for ratification."

Thus Harry T. Burn, 22—the youngest member of Tennessee's legislature—defended the course he took in changing his vote in the House of Representatives here from anti-ratification to ratification, when the final test of strength came on the Susan B. Anthony amendment.

Burn, a Republican member from McMinn county, in the heart of the East Tennessee mountains, is credited with having enfranchised 17,000,000 American women by his action in favor of the amendment. Today he made the only reference made in the House to the suffrage question. He mentioned it in a statement explaining his vote and denying he had accepted a bribe, as was charged in veiled intimations.

"I be lieve in full suffrage as a right," said Burn. "I believe we had a moral and legal right to ratify. I appreciated that an opportunity such as seldom comes to mortal man—to free 17,000,000 women from political slavery—was mine."

"I desired that my party, in both State and Nation, might say it was a Republican from the mountains of East Tennessee, the purest Anglo-Saxon section in the world, who made national woman suffrage possible at this date. Not for personal glory but for the glory of his party."

The newspapers had printed affidavits of two persons who declared they had overheard a conversation in which Rep. Hanover endeavored to bribe Burn. Both Burn and Hanover swore to counter affidavits vigorously denying the charges.

COMMUNITY TEA HOUSE

Women of North Arlington District Ask for Business.

Mrs. Dorothy Canfield Fisher has sent out the following relative to the new community tea house that has been opened in the schoolhouse in the north part of Arlington and on the road to Manchester:

"As a neighbor often on the main road of our valley, we would like to call your attention to an interesting bit of community, pulling-together effort which is being made in the North District of Arlington. You may perhaps know how deeply the people of the North District are interested in the school there, and how much they have done for it, both inside and out; so much indeed that many people passing by the quaint, attractive little building two miles north of Arlington, have no idea that it is a 'district school,' which is associated in their minds with unkempt surroundings, dreary unpainted walls, sunburnt weeds growing up to the door-step and boarded-over windows during the summer vacations."

"The Woman's Club of the North District, wishing to try the possibility of a new business enterprise, have opened in the school house, what they call a 'community tea-house.' That is, they have divided up the week, so that one afternoon falls to a member of the club, the next afternoon to another, and so on. On the day when it is her 'turn' at the school-house tea-room, the club-member bakes a cake or two, or makes some cottage cheese, or potato-salad, or Boston brown bread, or baked beans, or doughnuts, or whatever she does best, and prepares to take over the tea-room for that afternoon. She always serves tea and sandwiches, and ice cream and cake, and then beyond that, whatever is convenient for her to prepare in her own kitchen that day. This means the most genuine sort of home cooking and a considerable variety from one day to the next."

In the afternoon, she serves those who stop, with the help of little girls of the school, who wait on the table, each taking her turn through the week as their mothers do. It is unlike any tea-house you ever saw, and we think it has its own homely charm which would be worth your while to experience."

In addition to things to eat, they have a place in one of the school-rooms, a collection of historic antiquities of the region, all sorts of quaint and curious objects dug up out of old attics, which illustrate the sort of life which our great-grandfathers lived in this valley. There is the account book of the grocery store kept in Arlington in 1790, with all its quaint long s's, and all its tale of the prodigious amount of rum consumed by our ancestors. There is a cook-book all in fine hand writing, of 1830 before they thought of printing cookbooks. There are old dresses and chemises and handkerchiefs, and the utensils for spinning and carding and weaving wool; and snuff-boxes, put away with the snuff still in them and old fans and writing desks, and baby's clothes—'a picture of the past! These things are not behind glass, in show cases, but are laid out for you to handle and look at, and feel the reality of."
